Individual Teacher Responses to Description of Disruptive Incidents Questions

AN DISRUPTIVE INCIDENT OCCURRED AT SCHOOL:	THE DATE A DISRUPTIVE INCIDENT OCCURRED ON IS:	DESCRIPTION OF DISRUPTIVE INCIDENT Note: Many teachers were hesitant to report incidents because they suffered reprisals by administrators; therefore, other teachers with firsthand knowledge of the incidents have reported some of the very troubling incidents.	THE ADMINISTRATOR(S) WHO TOOK ACTION ON THIS INCIDENT WAS (IF NONE, INDICATE "NONE"):	THE ACTION TAKEN BY THE ABOVE ADMINISTRATOR(S) WAS (IF NONE, INDICATE "NONE"):
School 3 D'Youville Porter	11/21/2019	During Art, students were fighting and started running in the halls. Three boys were fighting and three girls ran after them in the hall to tell an adult.	Principal	Contact Parents
School 6 BEST	12/05/2019	Student (7 year old) was running full speed in hall during morning arrival practically knocking others down, a teacher pulled him aside ask him to walk, he ignored the teacher and kept on running to his classroom. The teacher went to his class and admonished him because he was going to hurt someone (since he does this daily) and the teacher got called into principal's office for admonishing him in a loud voice. Principal said he has an IEP and because of this he shouldn't have been admonished, since it could have triggered him.	Karen Piotrowski	Nothing happened to student, teacher got in trouble.
School 6 BEST	11/26/2019	Student who is chronically disruptive continued with disruptive behavior and when told to stop, responded with a diatribe of foul, abusive and profane language. No suspension and no intervention was put in place as discipline.	Uncertain as a non-administrator handled the original call.	Student has been removed from the teacher's room but not from school.
School 6 BEST	11/19/2019	Student swore at teacher. When asked to stop and sit down he continued to swear at teacher and class, stomped out of room and tipping furniture as he left. He was returned to class in 20 minutes and no information as to consequence.	None to anyone's knowledge.	None to anyone's knowledge.
School 6 BEST	10/22/2019	Student throwing other student's things out the window, running around the room, punching students, throwing cleaning supplies, ran in and out of room, left unsupervised because the student continuously called the room shouting profanity and hanging up, punched the teacher. NO CONSEQUENCES!! The teacher had a fight on 11/18, two students fighting in class. The teacher had to clear the room and had to ask a student to call the office. The teacher broke it up but then the teacher hurt his/her back. The two students were not suspended. The teacher had a student who has been in 5 fights as well as several assaults on others, and has had no suspensions. The students are learning this is acceptable behavior.	Todd Strange is in charge of 5-8 in the building.	A teacher just got a letter for one student but they only will do "In Lieu" that way they don't have to suspend. The student came back with no parent.
School 6 BEST	11/21/2019	Student made threatening gesture toward other classmates. Student used profanity to other students along with threatening them. Student then walked out of the room. Teacher aide was sent to the room to deal with student. Another student has hit many students in the past. On at least 2 days last week no one came to respond when the teacher called for assistance with extremely disruptive students. Write-ups submitted this year (about 4 of them) have received no response. Students scream and argue during class and in the hallways including being witnessed by the administrator (principal) and she turns and walks away without saying anything to these students. School 6 BEST	10/22/2019	Student called 911 and told them there was an active shooter in the building.	K. Piotrowski	We were put in a shelter in place while police searched student phones. This was all learned through hearsay as no official email or explanation ever was given to staff. A note explaining the incident was typed and given to students before some staff even knew what had taken place. As far as teachers know, the student who called 911 was never identified.
School 17	11/08/2019	Students punching other students, kicking teachers, destroying classroom property. Destroying students work while they are working on it.	None	Call home

School 17	11/06/2019	Note: Many teachers were hesitant to report incidents because they suffered reprisals by administrators; therefore, other teachers with firsthand knowledge of the incidents have reported some of the very troubling incidents. Student left room and needed to be followed by a teacher. Student was discovered by school psych and principal. She was brought back to class and school. Psych sat with her for 20ish minutes. When psych left student tried to leave room again. Teacher sat in front of door with a small reading group. Student threw desk, chairs, books, pencils, crayon boxes...etc. Teacher asked for help (by calling across the hall), VP did not come to support teacher. We are fortunate that our 6-8 admin is very approachable and proactive in doing restorative circles when issues occur. There are times when she is not available, as there are many behavioral needs in the building. If she is made aware of situations, she responds quickly and in a supportive manner.	Restorative circles, problem solving sessions, lunch detentions, short term disciplinary leave as deemed appropriate
School 19 Native American Magnet School	10/29/2019	Student attacked other students in the room without provocation. Returned to room with said students after he was walked around the building to deescalate. Entire class including victims were terrified.	Michael Suwalla Kate Wendeling	Nothing

School 27 Hillery Park Elementary	11/07/2019	They are so numerous, it is almost impossible to remember. On Thursday 11-7, a teacher came out of their room to find multiple chairs thrown about the hallway. As far as the teacher was aware, the student responsible faced NO discipline. A student from a teacher's room the prior week had left the room without permission, was loudly kicking and punching walls and doors out in the hallway, opening an exterior door, which could have endangered not only himself but also the entire student and faculty population. NO discipline!!! Students have been reported to have struck, pushed, and verbally abused faculty, all without consequence. (When an administrator faces the same treatment, students get suspended!) School 45 International School	09/27/2019	This is a general summary of incidents in 2018-19 school year: Student physically threatened a teacher with an object. The teacher had to run out of the classroom. These types of incidents continued to happen regularly throughout the rest of the school year. The teacher reached out to Special Education administrators met with Associate Superintendent begging for guidance and help. No one provided any concrete advice or guidance to deal with this level of aggression so the teacher could stay safe. Student is classified as having ED therefore every time they were suspended they were eligible to return without corrective intervention as their aggression was found to be a manifestation of their disability. NYSED regulations state that we SHOULD be trained in preventative measures (for example TCI) and we are not. BPS is not training teachers, support staff, or administrators and therefore physically aggressive students are out of control when they are in crisis.	They couldn't because they haven't been trained - not for a lack of want.	Supported me 100%
School 45 International School	11/19/2019	Two students were fighting in the classroom, physically hitting, kicking and pushing each other. A teacher called the main office for assistance. Eventually (about 7 minutes after a call) a sub admin arrived and asked what the problem was; he took the one student still in the room. The teacher sent the injured student to the nurse and notified the admin of the injury. Both students involved in the fight were sent back to the teachers' class 20 minutes later. No consequences were given for either student.	Mr. Grisanti (sub admin)	Brief student removal

School 61 Arthur Eve School of Distinction	11/07/2019	A teacher was subbing for a kindergarten teacher because they did not have enough teachers to cover all of the regular classes, so the teacher got pulled from their regular position. A student was refusing to do any work. He was rolling on the floor, crawling under tables, and eating things that had fallen on the floor. An administrator came in the classroom to ask the teacher if everything was okay. The teacher told him about that student. The administrator tried to get the student to come with him. The student refused, so the administrator just left the room without helping at all. The teacher was left to deal with the child on their own. Later on, the teacher called the office to request assistance with that same student. The administrator called the teacher to ask if they were by themselves and really needed help. The teacher said yes and he came down and removed the student for about 5 minutes. He brought the student back without speaking to the teacher about what consequences were given. The student proceeded to behave the same way for the rest of the day. The teacher didn't call the office again because the teacher knew they wouldn't get any reasonable help.	Dr. Unseld Robinson	Removed the student for 5 minutes and brought him back without discussing anything with me.

School 64 Frederick Law Olmsted	11/22/2019	During P.E. at least one boy in class pushed other students and went after them after the teacher had to physically redirect and remove the student from a game, and gym. School 93 Southside Elementary	11/22/2019	Students in a teacher's homeroom have to have art in the homeroom because the art teacher does not have a classroom. During "art on a cart" one student stood up and walked over to another student's table and held out his hand and stated, "let's just be friends". The other student, still seated, held out his hand to shake and the student then punched the seated student in the face. The student retaliated and threw a punch back escalating to an all out brawl. The remaining students were screaming and yelling profanities and it was scary and complete chaos. An administrator was called and ODRs were completed. Both students were returned to the same class 30 minutes later with no consequence. This is inconsistent with fights that have occurred in other classes as sometimes the students are suspended for fighting. Student continued to yell, kick, hit and throw items while he was in the calming area. Adults attempted to calm him and stop him from hurting himself or others. When they gave him space, he began to attempt to harm them. Lasted several periods. 10/3 AM- Student became agitated and ran out the classroom. We had to search the building for him. PM-Student proceeded to walk into the lunchroom. He was reminded that is was not lunch time and offered snacks in the room. He insisted that it was. He displayed verbal and physical aggression. In the classroom he threw items at and attacked the teacher. He cornered a teacher behind a desk, hit, punched and clawed at the teacher and attempted to pull the to the teacher to the ground. The teacher had to push a desk out the way to get out of the corner. He grabbed the teacher's arms and clothes trying to pull him/her down while hitting him/her. The teacher was able to break his grip and run in the hall. He followed and Continued: The teacher was able to break his grip and run in the hall. He followed and began to hit the teacher in the hall. Administration responded and was able to break his grip. Student attempted to run after down the hall to attack the teacher while swearing and screaming that he was going to get the teacher. Administration was able to get him back to his room. Several adults were harmed, hit, kicked and attacked by the student. The teacher was unable to return to his/her classroom with other students. Student has hit, punched, threatened ("I am going to kill you"), used classroom items as weapons (staplers, hole punchers, scissors, etc.) and destroyed property. He is a safety risk to himself, his classmates and staff. Student needs to be in agency setting or BPS needs to make a classroom for students that are a physical threat and on agency waiting lists. We are not trained to deal with violent behavior, such as using physical holds. * The teacher asked that student be removed, but there is no other place in the district to put him. He is currently in another classroom where he has had several outbursts and had to be picked up by family members. The student now comes in tardy up to several hours each day, sleeps for several hours and watches movies to maintain his behavior. Safety is the top priority. Student refuses to comply or complete any work. If he is prompted he will show signs of physical aggression. He is high priority. Our administration has taken all necessary steps and has been extremely helpful. The district needs to recognize the severity of the situation.
School 93 Southside Elementary	11/21/2019	Two students were arguing and became aggressive towards one another in the middle of an assessment. The teacher called the office to have these students removed. The one student became very defiant and disrespectful towards the teacher once admin was called. Administration removed ONE of the 2 students. The student who was removed came back to class within 15 minutes. No one told the teacher he was being sent back and the problem between the 2 students were not solved. The problem continued and the teacher had to call the office again. One of the students was removed again. She was brought back to class later in the day.		Removed 1 student for 15 minutes and then the other student for a few hours.

The student will not respond to this, but will continue to become upset after he is redirected. His behavior turns to extreme and verbal aggression. Student makes unreasonable requests resulting in violent behavior. He immediately became frustrated, and yelled "I want it now!". Student began to yell. He began to pick items up on the teacher's desk, as well as around the room and throw them at the ground and at adults. He was calmly told that he was not being safe. His behavior began to escalate. He was kicking, throwing and hitting items. Student tried to run out of room. Administration quickly responded. He tried to grab scissors and pick up the computer. He tried to step on top of chairs that would topple over, pick up chairs and floor lamps to throw. Student continued to throw items, anything he could get his hands on, kick, hit climb on items and throw his body around the room and at adults. A teacher was hit in the head with several objects as well was administration. Student calmed, but once again he tried to grab items, hit, kick, throw his body around, swear, claw at teachers and leave the room. He pulled at a teacher's sweater, glasses and earrings, which the teacher removed. He grabbed and pulled the teacher's ponytail several times. He grabbed a pair of scissors and said "I am going to kill you". All three adults attempted to get the scissors out of his hands. He threw his body around, while hitting, kicking and throwing items. Student also was swearing and using derogatory language. Despite using coping strategies, and following guidelines according to his IEP and BIP, Student exhibited extreme verbal and physical aggression throughout the school day. Often, the trigger was unknown, or because he could not have something he desired at that time. He did not follow safety rules, damaged property and attempted to harm himself and 5 adults. Students' IEP/BIP states that at times he needs physical holds which we are not allowed or trained to do. He currently is on an Agency waiting list. He is in a classroom with 5 female students who are now afraid and do not feel safe around him. Student needs at least 2 adults to supervise him at all times. Student was suspended for 5 days.	Dixon, Anderson, Nsengiyumva	5 day suspension
School 93 Southside Elementary	11/01/2019	The disruptions I'm referring to do not occur in my classroom, they occur in the hallway. Seventh and eighth graders are out of control in the hall most times. When a teacher spoke to a student a few weeks ago, the teacher was told to "shut up!" Other students and teachers see and hear students being disrespectful to their teachers quite often. Due to the district's policies, most of the problematic children are aware that there are little to no repercussions when disrespecting the staff. It is ridiculous!	None	None

School 93 Southside Elementary	11/19/2019	5 students were brought late to a teacher's class by administrator from another room where they had been because of behavior in another class. They were unprepared for class without their materials. A teacher let them go to their lockers to get their things. They came back saying they were not allowed to get their things. 4 of them refused to sit in their seats or any other chair, they screamed and ran around the classroom pushing and shoving each other to the point 1 student was on the floor. They were so disruptive to the rest of the class that the teacher called administration. Administration called back and asked what was going on. It was so loud they could barely hear. Principal came and took 4 of the students telling them that they would all be suspended because this was happening too much and it was their last chance. The students were called down at the end of the day and given a "letter in lieu of suspension" after being told that they were going to be suspended.	Principal	Students removed, told they would be suspended, but given a "letter in lieu of suspension" instead.
School 93 Southside Elementary	11/22/2019	The student was saying that "math sucks". The teacher calmly walked over and asked him what was wrong. He hit the teacher with his pencil and his chair. After three phone calls and probably 15 minutes someone was able to come remove the student. This was around 10 a.m. At noon the student was sent back to the teacher's class without being notified. The teacher had no idea that he/she was now responsible for the child that just assaulted him/her. The student did not return to class but stayed in the hallway outside of the teacher's class. Having not been informed of his return the teacher sent his/her students to their lockers to get their lunch things. This is when the student punched a classmate. This student now assaulted two people. The teacher informed admin. The student still stayed in the hall wandering around for 20+ minutes. The student also walked past the teachers door during this time and used his finger to point at the teacher as if it were a gun.	None at first. Then Mr. Anderson. Then Mrs. Goldman	Not sure yet. Probably a suspension.

School 93 Southside Elementary	11/15/2019	Note: Many teachers were hesitant to report incidents because they suffered reprisals by administrators; therefore, other teachers with firsthand knowledge of the incidents have reported some of the very troubling incidents. Students in the teacher's class were out of control. Their homeroom teacher has recently taken a leave of absence due to stress. One student, who has threatened the teacher in the past (incidents reported and student returned with no consequence or conversation with administration on agreed improved behavior) was again disruptive and defiant. The teacher called the main office to have him removed as they were going to be conducting a lockdown drill and the teacher was concerned about his noncompliance. The office staff said they would let administrator know. After ten minutes this students behavior led to two other students (his buddies) to become non-compliant and disruptive. Both students were requesting the bathroom but neither student would stop yelling at and over the teacher. The teacher called the office again to have both students removed. The teacher was transferred to the administrator who informed the teacher that he/she would have to call around to other teachers in the building to host these students as the Intensive Learning room was closed. The teacher was concerned to be locked in the classroom with these students. They are much larger than the teacher and their prior physical intimidation of the teacher (with no consequence) made the teacher extremely concerned. It is at this building and the teachers have been made aware that students are not to be suspended. Administration is now refusing to respond and remove students from teacher's classrooms because they say we have to do restorative circles. Also, they know that our contract says that if they remove them we can refuse they come back without an agreed upon plan of behavior improvement. Later that day, a teacher witnessed an administrator meeting with these two students along with 3 others in the computer lab. The teacher heard the students voices and was interested as to why they would be in there. When the teacher checked, he/she saw this administrator passing out doughnuts to these students. The administrator replied, " No problem. We're just doing a little restorative practice." The teacher was concerned that these students appeared to be enjoying a reward. The training teachers receive on restorative practices do not include food rewards. In fact, the trainer advised against this as it undermines the purpose. Administrator behavior decisions, or lack of response is fueling continued disruptive behaviors and escalates them as there are no consequences but instead sweet treats. It also undermines morale and makes teachers feel that their safety and health is not a concern for administrators.		Initially there was apparently no response.

Yes, he did have learning difficulties, but his ODD was the most impactful hindrance to his education. School 99 Makowski ECC		I don't want to focus on any one incident in particular. It's more the ongoing disrespect and lack of cooperation of a small portion of students (less than 10%) who disrupt the flow of teaching and LEARNING through talking, fooling around, not being able to get along with each other, and generally thinking they can do whatever they want to do. They do it throughout the school, not just with one teacher. There needs to be a more proactive approach to identifying and addressing the behaviors of these children. I truly believe it is a CIVIL rights issue for the 90% of the students whose learning is being interrupted.

In class today, he put his instrument together and started pointing it in other students' ears and playing as loud as he could. The teacher asked him to stop three times, before the teacher told him to put his instrument away. He was using inappropriate language. The teacher asked him to sit down, he has his headphones in and is rapping at the top of his voice, refusing to sit in his seat or acknowledge anything the teacher says. School 206 South Park	11/15/2019	A student went into a teacher's desk and swapped the teacher's SIM card with the SIM card from their track phone.	Thomas, Morris - The teacher first emailed Thomas and Thomas responded that if the teacher texted back any of the numbers, see who they thought they were texting. The teacher was unsure how to proceed. The teacher was told to send the students texting her to Thomas, even though they weren't in the teachers class. The teacher did this. The teacher then went to Morris who immediately called the student involved to his office. An investigation was conducted and the issue was given back to Thomas. The teacher was told that even though they basically knew the student stole it, they had a phone with no SIM card, students claimed they thought they were texting this student, only students who were friends with the student had texted the teacher. Because there was no physical proof and since the teacher didn't see it, no consequence could be assigned. Thomas said the students probation officer said the teacher could press charges and that an SRO would be sent to the teachers room but that didn't happen. The teacher said they would be willing to participate in a restorative meeting and that was ultimately the consequence even though the student never admitted to it.
